

Tells Tariff Board Of Oil Production Development Plans

Witness Says That Protection Needed to Enable Company to Continue Research in Alberta Oil Field Possibilities

OTTAWA, Nov. 20 (P).—Prospects of a much more intensive development in the Turner Valley oil field in Alberta are being studied by the British-American Oil Company, H. H. Bronston, controller of the company, told the Tariff Board today.

He said his company was studying a process for the production of a third grade of commercial gasoline from Turner Valley naphtha which, if successful, might result in the closing of British-American's refinery at Coutts, Alta., and withdrawal by the company from the Cutbank oil fields in Montana.

At present the company produces crude oil from its properties at Cutbank and pipes it to its refinery at Coutts to supply its customers in Western Canada. Mr. Bronston said his company was now interested in Turner Valley in a small way, and there was a possibility this interest might develop along lines which would make the importation of crude oil from Montana unnecessary. He declined to give details of the scheme when pressed by J. J. Frawley, of the Alberta Attorney-General's department.

COMPANY PRESENTS BRIEF

The tariff board's hearing into an application from Saskatchewan co-operative associations for removal of the present gasoline duty continued with presentation of a brief on behalf of British-American Oil. Mr. Bronston was questioned after the brief had been submitted.

Mr. Frawley asked the oil company official why his company needed the duty in so far as its Alberta business was concerned. His reply was to outline the prospective development of the company's operations.

The Alberta Government representative said this proposal was a complete surprise to him and the company should supply more details. At present Alberta was opposed to continuance of tariff protection on gasoline but if that province, with Saskatchewan and part of British Columbia, could be supplied with gasoline by a development at Turner Valley the province might take a different stand.

WANTS FACTS SECRET

Mr. Bronston said he was willing to lay all the facts at his disposal before the tariff board and counsel for Alberta and was satisfied they would substantiate his statement. He objected, however, to disclosing them before a public hearing of the board.

M. J. Patton, of Toronto, presented the company's brief and argued that the continuance of the oil refining industry in Canada was desirable from the point of view of employment and security of supplies. He compared prices in Canada and the United States and argued that higher costs of distribution, sparsity of population, lower consumption of gasoline per capita, per vehicle and per square mile of territory accounted for whatever difference prevailed in price level between Canada and the United States.

DONATIONS ARE BEING RECEIVED

Lake Hill Mission Campaign Gaining Ground—Building Fund Is Created by Deposit

The public interest centred on the Lake Hill Mission has been greatly quickened by two outstanding examples of altruism, following the appeal for funds for the new school so urgently needed.

A small girl brought to the superintendent a donation of twenty cents, saved from her allowance of twenty-five cents. Another case was that of a resident, recipient of a pension, who offered $50 at the mission board meeting, the donation being handed in a few days later. It was duly deposited as the nucleus of the building fund and barely had the transaction been completed when word was received that the donor had succumbed to a sudden illness and had passed away.

These are but two examples of the many acts of self-sacrifice which have been made to aid in the drive for funds for the Lake Hill Mission. Since that time the public subscription has been sufficiently generous to allow the officials to show a building in progress which will be equal to anything similar on the Island, but further donations are urgently needed to bring the project to completion.

FIFTEEN WOUNDED IN CLASH IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 20 (P).—More than fifteen persons were wounded by bullets and knives when members of the "gold shirts" clashed with Communists and organized workers today in front of the national palace in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the revolution.

Gen. Nicolas Rodriguez, head of the "gold shirts," was wounded in the stomach while directing his followers to proceed and parade in front of the palace.

Geese From Canada in English Home

Here is a remarkable photograph showing part of the flock of several hundred Canadian black-necked geese, which are a feature of the three-quarter-mile long lake in Holkham Park, the North Norfolk seat of the Earl of Leicester. Introduced to the English climate several years ago, these beautiful creatures are perfectly satisfied with their surroundings, and commonly fraternize with the wild "pink feet" geese which frequent the local marshes.

COMMANDER OF GREAT WAR FLEET SUCCEUMS

News of Earl Jellicoe's death was received with profound sorrow in the Isle of Wight, where for some years he had lived in retirement at Lawrence Hall, Ventnor.

A memorial service probably will be arranged at Bonchurch, Isle of Wight.

The Jellicoes often entertained the Queen during Cowes Week.

BEATTY'S TRIBUTE

Earl Beatty, Admiral of the Fleet, who served under Jellicoe at Jutland, said: "Earl Jellicoe epitomized all the highest ideals for which the British Navy stands. The tradition of the British Navy meant a great deal to him. It can be said that he was an admiral who made that tradition even more glorious."

Earl Jellicoe was well known in Canada. Twice since the war he had visited the Dominion. In 1919 he went there at the invitation of the Canadian Government in the course of an Empire-wide tour. He landed at Vancouver and later proceeded to Ottawa, where he conferred on naval matters and offered advice and information to Canadian authorities.

INTENSIVE PROGRAMME

In September, 1931, he again went to the Dominion as head of the British Empire Service League. He carried through an intensive programme. He opened the Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto and had speaking engagements in a number of cities.

Many Canadian riflemen have intimate recollections of Earl Jellicoe, who succeeded Lord Chelmsford as president of the National Rifle Association some years ago. He was the first naval president of that body and persuaded it to extend to women with military service the right to participate in the annual shoot at Bisley.

BRELLIANT CAREER

Jutland, as the supreme day of Jellicoe's life, crowned a long and brilliant career. Born John Rushworth Jellicoe, December 5, 1859, the son of Capt. J. Jellicoe of the mercantile marine, he was schooled at Rottingdean and entered the navy as a cadet at the age of thirteen.

As a young lieutenant he saw service in the Egyptian campaign of 1882. Thereafter his rise was rapid and when that vessel was rammed by the Camperdown off Tripoli in 1893 with the loss of nearly 400 lives, Jellicoe was in no sense implicated in that disaster as he was below decks suffering from malaria when the crash came. He made his way to the deck, collapsed there and was flung into the water where his life was saved by a midshipman who supported him until help arrived.

ON CHINA STATION

The future commander of the grand fleet was on the China station from 1898 to 1901 and commanded the naval brigade which, with American and other forces, marched to the relief of the legations besieged by the Boxers in Peking in 1900.

Later in that campaign he received a severe wound which for a time threatened to be fatal.

A number of posts ashore were succeeded with commands of ever-increasing importance afloat, and in all his duties Jellicoe earned commendation as a master of his profession and as a leader. He was "Hell Fire Jack" to his men. His chief post after the war was that of Governor-General of New Zealand, which he held from 1920-24.

Lord Jellicoe married in 1902 Florence Gwendoline, daughter of Sir Charles Cavender, Bart. There were five children, the heir, Patrick Viscount Brocas, who was born in 1918, and four daughters.

Admiral Earl Jellicoe was a visitor to Victoria in 1919, when he addressed a dinner meeting of the Men's Canadian Club at the Empress Hotel on the evening of November 11, the first anniversary of the Armistice. The meeting took place during the presidency of John Cochrane.

MRS. ROOSEVELT BETTER

GLEN COVE, Nov. 20 (P).—Mrs. Edith Kermit Roosevelt, widow of President Theodore Roosevelt, was said to be "more comfortable" tonight at the hospital where she is a patient. Danger attending a heart attack, which she suffered after entering the hospital for treatment of a fractured leg, appeared to be past, attendants said.

Strike Tying Up Glasgow Shipping

GLASGOW, Nov. 20 (CP-Havas).—Refusal by 4,000 striking dockworkers to accept conditions advanced by their employers to settle the walkout today seriously hampered shipping activity in Glasgow. Unloading of about fifty vessels in the harbor has been impossible due to the dock trouble.

ETHIOPIANS REPORT COSTLY SUCCESSES

15,000 to 20,000 Ethiopians are concentrating south of the Dolo-Makale line. The attack is anticipated from Buia, in the Analo sector, or from Socota Bello.

"FIGHT TO THE DEATH"

GENEVA, Nov. 20 (P).—Ethiopia served notice on the League of Nations today she will make no peace that will permit Italy "to reap the reward of its crime."

Answering Italy's November 11 note to the powers, an Ethiopian note flatly refused to entertain any proposal for settlement of the war that might be based on territorial gains by the Fascist armies, and added: "With the help of Almighty God, the Ethiopian Government and people will fight to the death, no matter what may be the cost and however long the war may last, to escape this savage domination."

The protest accused Italy of "unjustified aggression perpetrated under the most unfair conditions"; military barbarity and oppression, and attempts to buy traitors for cash, and charged that the invading armies have bombarded defenceless towns, killing women and children.

ITALY'S FOOD PLANS

ROME, Nov. 20 (P).—Premier Mussolini satisfied himself today that Italy can feed herself regardless of the economic siege laid down by League of Nations countries opposing his war in Ethiopia.

He approved regulations to limit certain crops whose exportation has been halted by sanctions and to grow others which formerly came from sanctioned countries. The plans affect every one of Italy's 3,646,000 farms.

Details of the programme were carefully withheld. "If sanctioned countries knew everything we did, they would know where to put on the pressure," said an official.

The farm plans were made at a secret meeting at which three big objectives were outlined:

THREE OBJECTIVES

First, to maintain, and increase, where necessary, production of foodstuffs and fodder.

Second, to increase immediate production of certain things needed by Italian industry in the manufacture of substitutes for articles formerly imported.

Third, to limit certain products, some of which have been exported in the past, and devote the land thus released to crops for home consumption.

The conferees agreed that more alcohol can be made for industrial use, probably in automobiles. The experts said there should be prompt action in order to supply the raw materials for making cloth.

VISIT SIGNIFICANT

LONDON, Nov. 20 (CP-Havas).—Ray Atherton, councillor of the United States Embassy, and the Embassy's commercial attaché, Lynn W. Meekins, visited the Foreign Office today.

Considerable significance was attached to the visit in view of current discussions regarding the possibility of an embargo on oil, iron and coal to Italy.

TELLS STORY OF ANDREW CARNEGIE

W. T. Straith 'Speaks' to Revellers Club on Life, Work and Deeds Of Philanthropist

How Andrew Carnegie, a native of Scotland, migrated to the United States at the age of thirteen and so diligently applied himself that he rose to fame and fortune—a fortune which he distributed so that it might benefit millions for years to come, was told by W. T. Straith, Victoria Public Library trustee, to members of the Revellers Club in the Cairo Coffee Shop, Douglas Street.

Carnegie gave in all, $135,000,000 for adult education, $65,000,000 of which went for establishing nearly 3,000 libraries, 1,900 in Canada and the United States. Born on November 25, 1835, Carnegie died in 1919, but the Carnegie Corporation, which he founded in 1911 carried on the work, Mr. Straith stated.

The speaker described the local library, started in 1862. He said there were now 37,000 books on the shelves, and last year, 351,000 books were circulated.

Plans were completed by the club to hold a Christmas party on December 6 at the A.O.F. Hall to raise money for the Christmas hamper fund.

A report was read by delegates attending the second annual banquet of the Vancouver Revellers Club in Vancouver recently.

British Columbia Sales and Profit on Liquor Climbing

Profits for Six Months Period Ending September 30 Greater by Nearly $200,000—Gross Sales Reported at $5,416,410, by Government

LIQUOR Board sales increased by $438,973 for six months ending September 30, and net profits were greater by $189,271 than in the corresponding period last year, Attorney-General Sloan disclosed yesterday. The increase developed in spite of price cuts made by the board in May and operating throughout five months of the period.

Gross sales of spirits, wines and beer were $5,416,410, compared with $4,977,437 between April and September inclusive, last year. Sales were itemized as follows: Spirits, $2,287,595; British Columbia beer sold to licensees, $1,669,199, and to permit holders, $963,294; British Columbia wines, $206,775; Australian and South African wines, $62,424; ales, stout and miscellaneous sales, $227,121.

PROFITS $1,250,241

Net profits accruing to the board were $1,250,241, compared with $1,060,969 in a corresponding period last year. This position was a net improvement in profits of $189,271, it was pointed out.

The return takes no account of the resale value of beer by licensed premises, which would add considerably to the total paid by the British Columbia public for its beverages during the six-month period ending September 30 last.

Revenue from the sale of permits was not segregated.

The profits will go into provincial revenues without distribution to municipalities which, a few years ago, used to draw a maximum of $70,000 yearly from this source. Municipalities still share in motor vehicle receipts, but lost liquor and pari-mutuel cheques by statutory amendment early in 1933.

passenger cars there was an additional "body duty" of 11 1-4 per cent, which was reduced to 6 1-4 per cent on any value over $200. This body duty has been dropped altogether in the new rate.

Assembled Cars and Trucks (New Rates)—Seventy-five per cent or more British content, 25 per cent.

Under 75 per cent British content, 60 per cent.

Assembled Trucks (Old Rates)—Seventy-five per cent or more Canadian content, 10 per cent.

Fifty to 75 per cent Canadian content, 20 per cent.

Under 50 per cent Canadian content, 50 per cent.

Assembled Passenger Cars (Old Rates)—Seventy-five per cent or more Canadian content, 15 per cent.

Fifty to 75 per cent Canadian content, 20 per cent, plus a "body duty" of 12 1-4 per cent.

Under 50 per cent Canadian content, 60 per cent.

In addition to the above duties, there is the usual surtax of 22 1-2 per cent on the amount of duty which New Zealand imposes on all goods.

BRITISH CONTENT

One important change is that in the amendments to the agreement British content is submitted for Canadian content. This enables Canadian manufacturers to use materials from any part of the Empire to qualify for lower duties instead of being confined exclusively to Canadian materials.

The rates on separate parts shipped into New Zealand will be the same as those for assembled cars and trucks.

It is understood New Zealand felt the 5 per cent rate on unassembled cars of more than 75 per cent Canadian content was too low, and, although the general trend of the changes is to lower the duty on high British content for unassembled cars, the 5 per cent rate was increased to 10.

OBJECT OF CHANGES

Otherwise the changes are to encourage a higher percentage of British content, reducing the rates ranging between 65 and 75 per cent British content and extending the highest rate to cover all under 65 per cent. The rates on assembled cars are up all along.

"The Canadian Government made certain counter proposals which were not accepted at this time," Mr. Eslick stated. "As time was too short for extensive negotiations, it was thought advisable to renew the agreement, and more especially in view of the fact that the New Zealand Government invited the Canadian Government to enter into further negotiations before the amended duties on motor cars come into effect on May 1 next."

but inadequate return in value for the expenditures.

ON NON-PARTISAN BASIS

In moving that the present Government be urged to inaugurate a non-political road commission, Mayor H. F. Prevost, of Duncan, stressed the enormous advantage of placing the future construction of highways upon a basis removed from partisan interference.

Mayor Charles Sims, of Courtenay, in seconding the resolution, expressed the opinion that greater value would be obtained for the money expended by a systematic and well planned programme such as would be possible under commission control.

Mayor C. J. Spratt, of Alberni, paid tribute to the results obtained for the money expended in the improvement of the Island Highway.

INDIAN CHIEF VACATES POST

Retirement of Michael Cooper, Head of Songhees Tribe, Is Announced

Resignation of Michael Cooper as chief of the Songhees Indians was announced by members of the tribe yesterday. A meeting will be held shortly to select a new leader.

Chief Cooper's retirement has been made necessary through ill health. Appointed in 1894 to succeed Charles Fraser as chief of the tribe, Chief Cooper assumed the responsibility of leadership at the age of twenty-seven years.

During his leadership the sale of the Songhees Reserve, now known as the Industrial Reserve, was negotiated and brought to a conclusion. Chief Cooper secured for his tribe $10,000 per family, new homes and another reserve.

The chief has lent his support to all kinds of Indian sports, and takes an active part in most celebrations here. He also conferred the honorary chieftainship on Lord Willingdon when he was Governor-General.

WOULD RETURN MILLIONS

Mayor Leeming pointed out that too much stress could not be placed upon the revenue-producing worth of good roads. He quoted statistics in support of his contention. He had recently returned from a trip through the neighboring states and through British Columbia in the interest of tourist trade development, and was convinced that with the multitude of scenic attractions possessed by the Island, and Mainland as well, good roads would return millions in new money to the Province.

In his comprehensive report on the activities of the Tourist Trade Development Association, Secretary T. H. Eslick reported that the Government's answer to the request of the council that a sum equal to the expenditure on the Fraser River Bridge be capitalized for the purpose of reducing ferry fares from the Mainland was a direct refusal. He read a letter from Premier Pattullo to that effect.

A further letter from the Government in respect of the council's endeavor to have Cathedral Grove protected, was non-committal.

TO CONTINUE EFFORTS

The council decided to continue its efforts to achieve these objectives.

The transcontinental railways will be urged to again institute cent-mile excursions to the Coast from Prairie Provinces, and appreciation was expressed of the value of these Summer trip rates.

On motion of Mayor John Barsby, of Nanaimo, the feasibility of holding an exhibition of Vancouver Island products will be explored.

Expressions of gratification were voiced of the results already achieved in unification of Island sentiment, and many instances were given of the value of inter-community co-operation. High praise was accorded to the work of Mr. Eslick in bringing this about.

The Daily Colonist was also thanked for the interest that it had shown in uniting the Island for the mutual benefit of all sections.

Mayor Leeming dealt at length, and in most interesting manner on the tourist results attained during the year. He pointed out that Victoria, for many years, had been demonstrating its appreciation of the truth that what helped one part of the Island aided all communities, by including Vancouver Island as a whole in all its publicity. He pointed out that although the increase in tourist business in the Vancouver area was but 4 per cent, that of the Island was 32. This was due to the splendid work of the Publicity Bureau and the attractions provided by the Tourist Trade Development Association.

SHOWBOAT POPULAR

In his recent extensive tour through the adjoining states, Mr. Leeming said he had heard many expressions of appreciation for the showboat entertainment put on at Victoria. The attendance at these entertainments totaled 162,000.

Tourists who came as a result of the well-planned and executed efforts of the Publicity Bureau, were highly delighted with the efforts made for their entertainment by the Tourist Trade Association. The two, working most effectively for the benefit of the community, were achieving splendid results. The Highland games at Victoria were also most attractive.

On motion of Mayor Charles Sims, it was decided to enlist the various sections in a new and enlarged folder descriptive of the entire Island.

At the request of the council, B. A. McKelvie dealt with various phases of the New Deal for Vancouver Island movement. At the conclusion of his remarks, the mayors reaffirmed their adherence to the principles of the demand for better treatment for the Island.

"Well, I declare!" as the returning tourist said when the customs man inspected his baggage.

COMMON DANGER CASE ADJOURNMENT GRANTED

The case of A. B. Baker, charged with driving to the common danger, was adjourned in the Provincial Police Court yesterday until next Wednesday to allow the accused to produce witnesses. Provincial Police, in laying the charge, claimed the accused crashed into a number of rural mail delivery boxes in the vicinity of Colwood.

Constable G. Davis, of the Provincial Police, testified that he had found a bumper broken off a car, broken glass from headlights, and part of the horn of a car. These he had taken to the dance hall at Colwood and found a damaged car to which the broken parts fitted. Witness said the accused had acknowledged that it was his car.

NEW CANDIDATE ENTERS FIELD

Major P. J. Riddell Will Seek School Board Post in Civic Election

Major P. J. Riddell, former superintendent of building and grounds for the city school board, yesterday threw his hat into the ring, thus providing a contest for the four vacancies occurring on that body.

The new candidate brings the total running to date to five. The others are Trustees Kenneth Ferguson and Charles R. Bishop, and Alex Marshall and Walter E. Staniland.

Major Riddell has held office as a school trustee on many occasions. He first ran for the school board in 1904, but was not elected until the following year. He sought reelection in 1906, but was defeated, but again received the support of the electorate in 1910. With other members of the board, he was returned by acclamation in 1911. He also was returned to office in 1912.

After that, he dropped out for a year, but came back again in 1914 and was elected to office. He was defeated in 1916, but elected again in 1917 and was returned to office in the elections of 1919 and 1921.

He was twice chairman of the board. Later he was appointed to the city school board staff as superintendent of building and grounds, and during the present year was superannuated from service.

NEW CANDIDATE ENTERS FIELD

Major P. J. Riddell Will Seek School Board Post in Civic Election

Major P. J. Riddell, former superintendent of building and grounds for the city school board, yesterday threw his hat into the ring, thus providing a contest for the four vacancies occurring on that body.

The new candidate brings the total running to date to five. The others are Trustees Kenneth Ferguson and Charles R. Bishop, and Alex Marshall and Walter E. Staniland.

Major Riddell has held office as a school trustee on many occasions. He first ran for the school board in 1904, but was not elected until the following year. He sought reelection in 1906, but was defeated, but again received the support of the electorate in 1910. With other members of the board, he was returned by acclamation in 1911. He also was returned to office in 1912.

After that, he dropped out for a year, but came back again in 1914 and was elected to office. He was defeated in 1916, but elected again in 1917 and was returned to office in the elections of 1919 and 1921.

He was twice chairman of the board. Later he was appointed to the city school board staff as superintendent of building and grounds, and during the present year was superannuated from service.

PRINCE AND HIS BRIDE VISITORS

Royal Spanish Couple Passes Through Victoria on World Honeycomb Trip

A stately honeymoon couple—tall, slender, pleasant and reserved Juan de Bourbon, Prince of Asturias, heir presumptive to the throne of Spain, and charming, graceful Princess Marie Mercedes Bourbon-Orleans—paid Victoria a one-hour visit Tuesday afternoon, en route from Vancouver to Seattle.

Their honeymoon is a world trip, and following a tradition of Eastern Canada, they stayed for a time at Niagara Falls. They enjoyed a stop at Jasper and were pleased with what they saw on a stop-over in Vancouver.

The charming couple was married in Rome on October 12, and ever since has avoided all formalities.

BAPTISTS AT CONVENTION

Rev. F. W. McKinnon, Victoria, Chosen Head of Island Association

Rev. F. W. McKinnon, pastor of Douglas Street Baptist Church, was elected president of Vancouver Island Baptist Association during the annual meeting held at Emmanuel Baptist Church yesterday. Baptists from several Island centres attended.

Walter Wain, of First Baptist Church, was chosen first vice-president, and Mrs. Arthur Pinkerton, of Emmanuel Baptist Church, second vice-president. Frank H. Humphrey was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Pinkerton was also appointed convener of all ladies' committees.

During the early part of the afternoon, there was a short devotional service, led by Mr. Wain, and the presidential welcome from Robert Macintosh. Mrs. L. G. Hill, of Chemainus, replied.

Under co-operation of Mrs. H. A. Marston, a special women's hour was held. Mrs. George Bishop directed a pageant illustrating work of the Baptist missionaries in Brazil at La Paz, Oruro, Cochabamba, Penel Hall Farm, Quillacolla and Lullagua. The Baptist Church maintains ten Sunday schools and seven churches in the South American republic.

MORE SUPPORT WANTED
In comparing Sunday schools with missions, Mrs. F. W. McKinnon made a plea for larger attendance at the classes and continued, active support of Sunday school teachers.

Mrs. O. H. Cogswell gave a detailed account of mission work in India, stating that the caste system at last showed signs of breaking down. She related that those seeking Christianity were now appealing to missionaries, instead of having to be begged to attend services. She did not believe that home rule for India would be successful.

Following a duet by the Misses Ethel and Annie Rhodes, and several organ selections, Professor E. S. Farr, of Victoria College, gave a talk to those young in spirit.

He stated that the church was losing ground with young persons because it had been ignoring their social problems and difficulties. In many cases they would rather attend meetings of radical, and often impractical political parties, than attend divine worship, he said.

BEST MUST COME
"I do not know how far invention will carry us, but I think it will eventually slow down. There must come a rest after all this activity while we have time to catch up," Professor Farr declared.

Touching upon schools, the speaker said little had been done in the matter of studying human capacities and qualities. He thought a curriculum should be bent to the personality of a child, instead of the child being shaped by the curriculum.

Even though youths were going out into the world fearful of their responsibilities, he believed they had a great social inheritance, many opportunities and a wealth of material to work with.

After a fellowship dinner, election of officers and a song service, led by Donald Smith, G. A. A. Hebban gave a talk on Sunday school work.

He related that modern Sunday schools were founded by Robert Raikes, at Gloucester, England, in 1780. By dispensing both religious and secular education, they raised the standards of many communities, he said.

MUST PROVE MERIT
"Today, the Protestant Sunday schools in various parts of the world are attended by over 38,000,000 children. They must continually prove their merit or their day will be over," he declared.

Sunday schools, he said, aimed at building up strong Christian characters in order that the world might be a better place to live in. They must do much to overcome the down-trodden, negative and beaten method of looking at life.

Mr. Hebban asserted that Sunday school teachers must make lessons more interesting, find methods to interest boys of the teen age and secure more support from parents. The meeting closed with introduction of officers, by Mr. Macintosh, and an inspirational address, by Rev. A. E. M. Danks, of Chemainus.

HYZKA SENT TO PENITENTIARY

Given Four-Year Term by Magistrate Jay—Convicted On Eight Charges

John Hyzka, with eight convictions against him of retaining stolen jewelry, etc., in this city, was sentenced to spend four years in the penitentiary by Magistrate Jay yesterday morning.

He was given the term of four years on the most serious of the charges, that of having possession of some $500 worth of articles taken from the home of William W. E. Cave. On the other seven convictions, he was given six months each, the terms to run concurrently with the longer sentence.

The accused, however, has some considerable time before he will enter upon the sentences just imposed upon him. Magistrate Jay made it conditional that the term of four years was to start only after the prisoner had completed the sentences which are now hanging over him and from which he had escaped by breaking jail in Penitentiary.

These latter sentences include a one year term given him in Nelson and a twenty-three month term, which was to run concurrently with it, imposed upon him in Penitentiary. He has, therefore, nearly six years to serve in the penitentiary, less the good behaviour reduction which he has the opportunity to secure.

SALTSPRING PIONEER LAID TO LAST REST

GANGES, Nov. 20—The funeral of Raffles Augustus Robert Purdy, of Ganges, who passed away at 1 o'clock on Saturday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, took place on Monday. Service was held at St. Paul's Church, Rev. C. H. Popham, vicar of the parish, and Rev. George Aitkens officiating. Mrs. V. C. PIANIST GIVEN WARM WELCOME

Jan Cherniavsky Plays to Enthusiastic Musical Arts Audience Here

A virtuoso of prodigious gifts is Jan Cherniavsky, the Russian pianist, who played a remarkably beautiful concert here, last night, under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Arts Society. An exciting, vital, vivid, engrossing player, he made every moment of his programme electric with interest, and received an overwhelming ovation at the exultant close of the programme.

The whole thing was a pure delight. A perfectly balanced programme, packed with interest, was played from first to last with unabated exuberance, leaving only the feeling that while the pianist more than merited a rest, he could carry on indefinitely on the same magnificently dynamic scale. The resonance, brilliance, power and graphic dashing of his technique seemed to gather momentum rather than flag, but an audience, which would willingly have tarried longer, felt grateful for the generosity of the two brilliant encores added after the last programme number.

The Gluck-Brahms "Gavotte" opened the recital. Here the pianist's glorious palette of tone was instantly apparent, and more and more revealed as the evening progressed, the strong sense of rhythm and phrase, and mastery of dynamics. The Steinhilber "Minuet," in which the tone varied from the most delicate and sparkling, to the stertorously brilliant and pyrotechnical, was followed by the great Bach-Busoni transcription, "Chaconne." Originally written for the strings, this is a magnificent concert composition for the piano, full of glorious contrasts, boisterous thunders of dynamic power, alternating with limpid pianissimo—the whole work played with fine interpretative temperament, boldness, dexterity of technique and prodigious exuberance.

SECOND GROUP
Grieg is not often given such rhetorical expression as heard in the "Ballade," which opened the next group. By comparison with the Bach-Busoni, the tonal values were quiet, but vivid, and a fine effect of splintering jaspers of ice, disrupting glaciers, was painted into the music. The second number in the same group was the brilliantly imaginative Paganini-Liszt "The Chase," with rippling light scale passages in pianissimo, and the powerful Scriabine "Study No. 12, Opus 8," sustained dynamics from first to last, and a great achievement in virtuosity, closed the group, save for the graphically beautiful encore, Borodine's "Covent Bell," with its reiterated booming bass note played against the thin clamor of the treble.

CHOPIN GROUP
Mr. Cherniavsky has always given highly individual and yet very beautiful readings of Chopin. He made of the Nocturne in D Flat a brilliant tapestry of melody, with brilliant singing tone, beauty of melodic line, and a flexibility of execution that was most appealing in its effect. Of the three preludes in this big Chopin group, the "Blacksmith" (No. 24) is the biggest and most dynamic. In respect of execution alone, the speaking power which he gave the individual notes in this was something to remember. The brilliant staccato work in the left hand was the technical feature of No. 3, and a glitteringly beautiful thing was the second prelude (No. 23).

Grace, charm, melodiousness and sparkling rhythmic qualities, attained through the pianist's artistic use of rubato and pedal, characterized the Polonaise in B Flat Major, one of the major things in the Chopin group. With this should, perhaps, be coupled the great Military Etude, with its unremitting thunders, showing again the tireless breadth and power of Mr. Cherniavsky's technique. The three lighter studies which preceded this revealed some of the more delicate aspects of his work, and in their variety and the sparkle and interest showing a pianist who at all times is human rather than mechanical, and so brilliant a virtuoso that he seems able to brush aside all technical difficulties as if they were non-existent. As encores to the magnificent Scherzo in B Flat Minor, he played sparkling variations of a Corelli "Gavotte," and Liszt's "Souvenir de Russie," both clamorously received.

Will Revive Plebiscite Issue Again

Alderman Andrew McGavin announced yesterday that he would again bring up the question of the police commission referendum at the next meeting of the City Council.

The alderman, since last Monday's meeting, has secured legal opinion from R. T. Elliott, K.C., on the matter. His written opinion as to the legality of such a referendum is contained in a letter to H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, which reads as follows: "Alderman McGavin called on me about a referendum re police commissioners."

"It does not fall within the class of referendum on which city money can be spent."

"Provided the cost is paid by voluntary contribution, there will be nothing illegal in having the referendum carried on, with the ballots deposited in a separate box attended by special clerks, at the general election and in the same premises."

PLAN TO PROCLAIM AUTONOMY FAILS

the proposals of the Japanese military, and General Shang Chen, Governor of Hopei, remained in Peking and delayed his arrival in Peiping.

Following his meeting with Ambassador Ariyoshi, General Chiang telegraphed instructions to Peiping to break off the autonomy negotiations. In Nanking, Ambassador Ariyoshi announced he was "completely reassured" concerning China's attitude toward Japan.

MIGHT PREJUDICE CASE
(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)
NANKING, China, Nov. 21.—A high official of the executive Yuan told the Associated Press correspondent today the "sudden release" of Japanese pressure in North China resulted from apprehension that autonomy agitation would prejudice Japan's case in the forthcoming London Naval Conference.

The official said the Chinese Government had been "authoritatively informed" that the move for North China autonomy, favored by Japan, had unexpectedly quietened because the Japanese Foreign Minister, Koki Hirota, had insisted in Tokyo that the creation of the new state would harm Japan's cause in the naval talks.

The Japanese Government recently instructed its delegates to demand full naval parity with Great Britain and the United States, and some observers said they believed the Tokyo authorities wished to run no risk of jeopardizing any chance of getting a much-desired accord granting them the right to build a larger navy.

HIGHLY DISPLEASED
TOKIO, Nov. 21 (P).—Japanese military authorities are "highly displeased" at the definite setback to the North China autonomy movement, the Rengo (Japanese) News Agency reported today from Nanking. The setback was attributed to the unwillingness of important Chinese military leaders to join in the scheme. Japanese sources said the "machinations" of the Nanking Government were responsible for the attitude of the Chinese generals.

Governor Han Fu Chu, of Shantung, whose adhesion to the plan of autonomy is necessary if Shantung is to be included in the "independent area," was reported to have informed General Sung Cheh-Yuan, one of the leading autonomists, that he would be unable to go to Peiping for a conference because of the pressure of official business.

General Shang Chen, Governor of Hopei Province, was said to be still aloof.

Japanese military officials in Tientsin, Rengo dispatches said, are anxious lest the autonomy movement degenerate into personal bickering between the Chinese leaders.

"Should such intrigues disturb the peace of North China," the Rengo Agency continued, "the Japanese Army may be compelled to take definite action."

TO IMPROVE CONDITIONS
(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, Nov. 21 (P).—Major-General Rensuke Isogai, Japanese military attaché in Shanghai, said today there was a "strong possibility" that autonomy agitation would subside in North China, with the Nanking Government taking independent action to "improve conditions."

SCOTS' SCHOOL METHOD SLOWER

Saanich Exchange Teacher Gives Account of Trip To Trustees

Scottish methods of teaching are slow compared with British Columbia school systems, Miss E. K. Styan, Saanich municipal staff teacher, who returned recently from Glasgow, Scotland, where she served as an exchange teacher, told the Saanich School Board last night.

However, she said, Canadian methods would not apply there. Miss Styan declared the Canadian pupils quicker than Scottish children.

Miss Styan was stationed at Possil School and instructed children from seven to ten years of age. She is an instructor at Craigflower School.

EDUCATION FREE
All education was free, she said. Children are allowed to attend grade schools until they are fourteen years of age. If they fail to pass into secondary or high schools, they are excluded from school at fourteen.

Books and school equipment was provided free of charge, she said. Miss Styan stated that co-education is practiced only in lower classes. Classes were from forty to sixty pupils in size.

Folk dances and ordinary games were conducted, rather than organized training. Miss Styan told the school board of her many side-trips made throughout the British Isles.

Teacher—"Your little girl seems backward in her reading."
Father—"Backward, eh? I suppose she takes after her mother: she always reads the last chapter first."

ASKING TO HAVE MORE FROM WILL

Application Made in Court to Have Adjustment Made to Increase Allowance

In Supreme Court Chambers here yesterday, Mr. Justice Robertson was asked to consider the readjustment of the affairs of the late William Pridmore, of Saanich, as set out under his will. On a petition of the widow, Lucy Pridmore, who was represented by A. J. Patton, it was requested that an alteration be made so that she might receive more cash out of the estate than was possible under the terms of the will.

The estate consisted of thirteen acres of land, with a dwelling, and under the will the widow was allowed the house to live in with an acre of land surrounding it. She was to have the income from the estate during her life, after which it would go to the five children.

Mr. Patton set out that there was left, after the taxes were paid, about ten dollars a month for the widow. He advanced the proposition that certain moneys now available in cash should pass to the widow to aid her.

The executors of the estate were all would recover.

the son, W. R. Pridmore, and a son-in-law, W. Isbister. R. S. S. Yates represented the executors, and presented a proposal which Mr. Patton asked time to consider.

W. H. Bullock-Webster appeared for the other heirs, daughters of the deceased. The family consists of William R. Pridmore; Mrs. W. Wilson, of Salem, Ore.; Elizabeth Isbister, Mary Simpson and Edith E. Howard, all of Saanich. The matter will be considered again later.

The Excruciating Pains of Rheumatism

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

COL. WALKER IS VISITOR

Only Surviving Officer of R.N.W.P. Who Made Historic March West

"The Grand Old Man of the Canadian Militia," Colonel James Walker, Calgary, who, at eighty-eight years of age, is the only surviving officer who participated in the march of the Royal North West Mounted Police to the West in 1874, is a visitor to Victoria. On his doctor's advice he is spending the Winter in the city and is registered at the Empress Hotel.

His eyes are weakening; his step is not so sprightly, and he does not hear as well as he did a few years ago, but this man, who as pioneer, soldier, policeman, rancher and executive, played such a great part in bringing peace to the West and opening it up, can tell vivid stories of the growth of the Prairies.

Wherever "Makers of Canada" meet, Colonel Walker is an honored member.

MILITIA CAREER

Born on April 14, 1846, at Carleton Place, Ont., he attended the Military School in Toronto in 1866, graduating with a captain's commission. In 1870 he attended the same school, receiving a first-class infantry certificate, which qualified him to command a regiment. When the second Fenian Raid of 1870 broke out, he was in charge of a guard of forty men. He assisted in organizing the 7th Westworth Battalion in 1871 and was major and adjutant in 1872-73. In 1895 he took a cavalry certificate on the organization of the 13th Light Horse Corps and is today an honorary colonel of that body.

In 1874 he joined the Royal North West Mounted Police. Two years later he left the West for a time to return to his native province to marry Miss Elsie Corley.

His activities with the Mounted Police were concluded in 1881 when he resigned his commission to enter ranching with Senator Cochrane. It was largely through his efforts that a natural gas was found in large quantities on the Prairies.

SUPPLIED TIES

He also started a sawmill in Calgary and supplied ties for the construction of the railways of Western Canada in 1882, when he retired from his 100,000-acre ranch.

For fourteen years he served on the Calgary board of education, and as a tribute to his fidelity a school that stands near his residence in Calgary was named the Colonel Walker School.

In 1916 he went overseas with the 238th Forestry Battalion, reverting to the rank of captain, and served on Colonel Smyth's staff.

LED STAMPEDE

The Calgary Exhibition, or Stampede, organized fifty years ago, had Colonel Walker as its first president and until two years ago he led their annual opening procession on horseback. He was the first immigration agent in Calgary, and owner of the first telephone system, in 1884.

Today he is at his best while telling of the many daring and thrilling experiences he had while establishing law and order in the West, then unbroken and inhabited largely by Indians and buffalo.

GIVES TALK ON SPECTROSCOPES

Dr. Andrew McKellar Is Guest Speaker at Astro-nomical Group Meeting

Dr. Andrew McKellar, one of the members of the staff of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory here, was the speaker at the November meeting of the Victoria branch of the Royal Canadian Astronomical Association, held last night at the Y.W.C.A.

Dr. McKellar's topic was the "Spectroscope and Its Relation to Astronomy." At the beginning of his lecture, he described the construction of the spectroscope, used for the viewing of color combinations, and the spectroscopic that photographed color divisions.

EXPLAINS INSTRUMENT

The ordinary spectroscope consisted of a narrow slit through which light was passed and by means of a set of lens and a prism the light values were divided into various groups ranging from the red to the violet and the ultra-violet. Light, he explained, was made up of a series of waves, the red having a wider range of vertical magnetic flows than the violet. The difference between the colors of the various light waves varied according to color, the violet having a much narrower division than the red, yellow, blue, indigo or white light.

It was possible, he said, to view the stars with a spectroscopic attached to an astronomical telescope and by comparing the line divisions, occurring at intervals, the scientists were able to determine the exact make-up of the light values from stars and to determine iron, magnesium or the gaseous content of the light rays, split up by the prism and arranged in their respective classifications. The arrangement of the various constituents, in any given light, formed the basis of scientific determination of matter and clearly defined the particles that went into its make-up.

SHOWS ARRANGEMENT

By means of a series of lantern slides, Dr. McKellar was able to more fully explain the practical idea of the transference of color to physical use. He also demonstrated the gas-filled discharge tube, which is playing such an important part in the advertising field.

Robert Peters was the only other speaker at the meeting. Mr. Peters, who usually gives an outline of the constellations for the month, said he found little of interest for December and therefore, gave a brief review of the discoveries of Halley, after whom Halley's comet was named. He also referred to the value of Sir Isaac Newton's work in connection with astronomy.

Lieut.-Commander H. R. Tingley, president of the local association, presided, and introduced the guest speaker.

Are Creating Scholarship For Pianists

The Victoria branch of the British Columbia Music Teachers' Federation decided at its meeting yesterday to award a scholarship to the pupil of an associate teacher winning highest marks in the junior, intermediate, senior and open pianoforte classes of the 1936 Musical Festival here.

Sixteen members were present at the meeting. Reginald Cox, the president, in the chair. A letter was read from one of the officers of the juvenile branch of the Musical Art Society asking for the association's support, individually, of this important branch of the parent organization. Five members promised to be present at the next meeting of the juvenile branch on December 14.

The treasurer reported a satisfactory balance after payment of expenses of the recent Music Teachers' joint pupils' recital. A letter of thanks will be sent to P. A. Gibbs, president of the Victoria Musical Festival, for his kind contribution toward the recent recital and the interest he had shown in the effort of the association. So successful was this first joint recital that plans for another to be held early in February were discussed at the meeting.

It was reported that several new members had been welcomed since the opening of the present season.

Portia Club Hostess at Silver Tea

Much ingenuity was shown by the four girls who designed a "Blue Monday" theme for the winning table at the annual Portia Club silver tea held yesterday afternoon at the Victoria High School in aid of the society's funds.

Ten tables were decorated, but only eight competed, two having previously won prizes in the same contest. Mrs. Sanderson-Mongin, Mrs. Claude Campbell and Earl Clarke acted as judges. The "Blue Monday" table carried out the idea of the weekly washday, a line of freshly-washed linen spanning a grass plot that occupied the centre of the table, and various other details emphasizing the event. Lux boxes and little wicker baskets were used to hold the sandwiches, and Dutch maids holding washboards were used for place-cards. The prize for the most artistic table went to a table decorated with apple blossoms and dainty pink runners.

While the guests were gathering, a pleasing musical programme was given for them in the High School Auditorium, under the direction of Mr. Alfred Prescott. Among those taking part were Nadhen Young, flautist; Rae Millar, pianist, and a school string quartette.

Resignation of Social Convener Much Regretted

The Beaux-Arts held a hastily-called executive meeting Tuesday evening, at the clubrooms, where they dealt with the unexpected resignation of Miss "Pat" McConnan, social convener.

Regret was expressed at this sudden announcement, and a letter will be sent to Miss McConnan, expressing the club's appreciation of her excellent and untiring efforts on the club executive. In losing Miss McConnan from the governing body, they felt a breach would be made that would not be easily filled.

Two active members and one associate member, Ronald Grant, Dick Airey and Hugh Farquhar, respectively, were admitted to membership in the club.

APPOINTMENT MADE

Miss Allen Cullum, recently appointed "ice-chairman of dramatics," was appointed to succeed Miss "Pat" McConnan as social chairman. Miss Hogg Denbigh was voted to the executive and appointed vice-chairman of dramatics. Further plans were laid for the celebration of the fifth birthday party of the organization on November 26, when an interesting programme, including two plays, "Rest Cure" and "Evening Dress Indispensable," followed by refreshments and dancing, has been prepared for the members and their friends. Plans for the snowball at the Empress Hotel, December 26, are rapidly taking form. The pre-Christmas general meeting will be held December 17.

The next practice will be held on Saturday. The free use of the hall was granted to Mrs. J. S. Humphries, who will convene a tea on Friday, December 6, the proceeds from which will be used for equipment for sports at the Strawberry Vale School. The next meeting will be held on the second Thursday in December. There were five tables in play at the bridge party held in the Institute hall at Colquitz. Prizes were won by Mrs. H. Huntington and Mr. G. Austin, first, and Mrs. Austin and Mr. Longland, consolation. The general arrangements were in the capable hands of Mrs. G. Austin, and assisting with refreshments were Mrs. J. Farmer Brown Fools Peter Rabbit

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When the snow is deep Peter Rabbit really has to work for a living. Perhaps this is a good thing. If he didn't he might grow too fat to keep out of the way of Reddy Fox. There are times when Peter has to eat whatever he can, and very often there isn't much of anything for him but the bark of young trees. It is at such times that Peter gets into mischief, for there is no bark he likes better than that of young fruit trees.

Now you know what happens when the bark is taken off all the way around the trunk of a tree. That tree dies. It dies for the simple reason that it is up the inner layer of bark that the life-saving sap travels in the Spring and Summer. Of course when a strip of bark has been taken off all the way around near the base of a tree the sap cannot go up and the tree must die.

Not far from the Old Orchard Farmer Brown had set out a young orchard. Peter knew all about that young orchard, for he had visited it many times in Summer. Then there had been plenty of green clover and other green things to eat, and Peter had never been so much as tempted to sample the bark of those young trees. But now things were very different, and it was seldom that Peter knew what it was to have a full stomach. He kept thinking of that young orchard. He knew that if he were wise he would keep away from there. But the more he thought of it the more it seemed to him that he just must have some of that tender young bark. So just at dusk one evening Peter started for the young orchard.

He got there in safety and his eyes sparkled as he hopped over to the nearest young tree. But when he reached it Peter had a dreadful

EXPECTS HALIBUT MEN TO BENEFIT

British Columbia halibut industry will benefit by $60,000 more a year as a result of the Canada-United States reciprocal trade agreement.

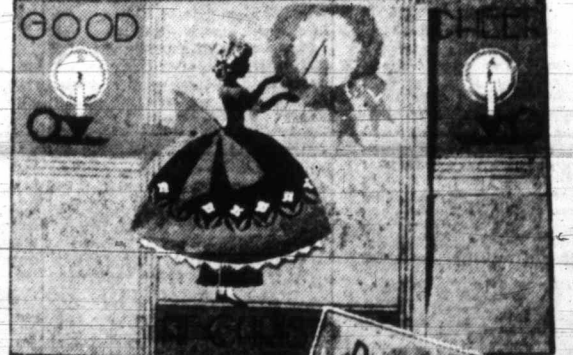

According to G. W. Nickerson, Prince Rupert broker, who was a visitor to the city yesterday.

He pointed out that the pact would increase the price of halibut by half a cent a pound. The halibut price was formerly two cents a pound and is now one cent. Under the new agreement, which will become effective in January, halibut is expected to rise to one and a half cents.

Prince Rupert is quite elated about it. It will place the halibut boats out of Prince Rupert in as good a position as those out of Seattle, Mr. Nickerson stated.

FERRY BOAT IS RELEASED

Operators and Strikers Agree to Give Olympic Peninsula Service

SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (AP).—Ferryboat service to the Upper Olympic Peninsula was restored today by an agreement between the operators and striking Masters, Mates and Pilots and Ferryboatmen's Union.

The Edmonds-Ludlow ferry Quillayute, released for temporary service in place of the crippled Ballard, of the Ballard-Ludlow Line, made the first run to the peninsula early today.

Since Monday, when the Ballard broke down, the upper peninsula was without contact with the west shore of Puget Sound, except by land.

START SERVICE

The Washington Motor Coach Company announced the start of regular passenger and freight service to the peninsula over the Edmonds-Ludlow route, beginning today.

Conferences between union representatives and the ferryboat operators failed to restore service to inter-community points. Further meetings were planned today. Operators and union representatives said they still hoped for an early agreement ending the strike or at least a temporary arrangement which will permit the boats to resume their regular schedules.

A proposal by the operators that the striking men return to their ships pending an appeal of the disputed arbitration board award met with no immediate response from the unions. Spokesmen said they were considering it.

NEW SHIPS FOR LAURITZEN LINE

Company Is Building Five Fast Reeder Vessels for Pacific Coast-European Route

VANCOUVER, Nov. 20 (AP).—Five fully-refrigerated motorships now under construction will be allocated to the Pacific Coast-European and Mediterranean trade early next year to augment the new service of the Lauritzen Line, Vancouver's latest connection with the Mediterranean, according to advices received by Ocean Shipping Company, British Columbia agents for the line.

With a speed of seventeen knots, the new liners will take their places among the fastest of the fleet out of this port. Names of carriers, tentatively selected, are Brazilian Reeder, Chilean Reeder, American Reeder, Canadian Reeder and Pacific Reeder. Four will have a carrying capacity of 65,000 boxes of apples each and one will have space for 85,000 boxes.

First sailing for this Coast by the new ships will be out of Copenhagen, home port of the Lauritzen Line, in February. The service was inaugurated this week by Ms. Dora. During the Autumn and Winter, the liners will call at Vancouver, Seattle and other Northwest ports to lift apples for the Mediterranean, and during Spring and Summer will specialize in citrus fruits for the United Kingdom, Gdynia, Poland, and other Northern European ports.

DINING-ROOM IS PALATIAL

Queen Mary's Saloon Will Seat 815 Passengers—Is Thirty Feet High

First-class passengers traveling next Summer in the Cunard White Star superliner Queen Mary will dine in the largest dining saloon ever built in a ship.

Even at its advanced stage of completion, it is hard to visualize the majesty of this tremendous room which is located on "C" deck and extends the entire width of the ship. Measuring 160 feet long and 118 feet wide, and seating as many as 815 persons, the dining saloon of the Queen Mary has a total area of 18,720 feet, and exceeds by one-fifth the floor space of the Grand Ballroom in the new Waldorf Astoria Hotel in New York. Four private dining-rooms, two forward and two aft, are included in this vast area.

The central portion of the dining saloon extends upwards for three decks, being surmounted by an imposing dome ceiling nearly thirty feet high.

Prominent British interior decorators, sculptors and designers employed on the Queen Mary have exploited their talents to produce an exquisite decorative effect. Light woods, accented with silver bronze metal work, dominate the general scheme, which is distinguished throughout by unusual beauty and restraint. Wall decorations will include a series of charming bas-relief carvings by Bainbridge Copnall, the well-known British sculptor.

UNIQUE FEATURE

Passengers dining in this immense saloon can ascertain the exact position of the ship simply by raising their eyes to a large map of the North Atlantic, on which the course of the Queen Mary at all times will be vividly shown by a moving illuminated model of the ship.

Separate dining saloons, of course, be maintained for tourist and third-class passengers, each of these rooms seating anywhere from 300 to 400 persons.

A staff of about 700 cooks, waiters, stewards, stewardesses, and their assistants, will be required to serve all passengers and crew traveling in the ship.

FREIGHTER OREGON HELD WITH LOAD OF AVIATION GASOLINE

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Nov. 20 (AP).—Dissatisfied with "war-time" onuses, the crew of the freighter Oregon held the vessel in port today with her cargo of aviation gasoline, believed intended for Italian forces in Africa.

Cancellation of a proposed sailing last night came after the crew was reported to have accepted and then refused a 50 per cent increase in wages for the voyage to Italian Somaliland.

Because of the seriousness of the issue, final decision was deferred until conferences today between the Oregon's personnel and Maritime Federation officials.

SAFER THAN CITY SQUARE

Late Captain of Ss. Morro Castle Did Not Want Passengers Upset

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP).—Robert Smith, cruise director of the liner Morro Castle, when she burned off the New Jersey coast with a loss of 124 lives, testified before a Federal jury today the former captain of the vessel once told him:

"You are safer on this boat than you would be crossing Times Square."

He attributed the remark to Captain Robert Wilnot, master of the Morro Castle, who died of a heart attack a few hours before the ship caught fire on September 8, 1934.

Testifying at the trial of two of the ship's officers and others on charges of criminal negligence, Smith stated that on a trip several weeks before the fatal cruise, he had suggested to Captain Wilnot that he (Smith) give a lecture to the passengers on what to do in case of a fire.

Smith said that Captain Wilnot turned down the suggestion because he did not want the passengers "unduly perturbed." It was then, Smith stated, that the captain remarked about the safety of the ship.

EPIDEMIC INCREASING
SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (P)—Dr. E. R. Coffey, state director of health, warned parents today that scarlet fever is on the increase. Cases reported in Washington during the first two weeks of November totaled 124, compared with 109 in September and fifty-five in August.

Said he: "Your slightest wish shall be my law." They got married. And, by gosh! he was right.

ROMANTIC DRAMA IS AT PLAYHOUSE

Charles Boyer and Katharine Hepburn Co-Stars in "Break of Hearts."

Really soul-stirring love scenes have been enacted for the camera between Katharine Hepburn and Charles Boyer in "Break of Hearts," now at the Playhouse Theatre.

While Boyer, idol of the French stage and screen, has been hailed as one of the great lovers of films, Hepburn never before has been cast in a role that offered her so great an opportunity to display her talent for romantic love.

"She combines the fire of an Olga Nethersole with the repression of a 'She,' said Philip Moeller, director. 'I am amazed at her emotional range from the most intense, lyric abandon to the most subtle nuances.'"

He declares that for beauty and power he does not believe that Hepburn's love scenes with Boyer ever have been duplicated on the screen.

"Break of Hearts" tells the story of a young composer who marries a famous maestro, but leaves him when she believes that her love is no longer necessary to him. His plunge to the depths of despair and his regeneration through her love make an enthralling picture. It is a Pauline S. Berman production for R.K.O. Radio.

Musical Comedy Has Strong Cast

A palatial ocean liner, plying between New York and Europe and featuring an elaborate radio entertainment broadcast from the high seas, is the scene of "Transatlantic Merry-Go-Round." Reliance's all-star comedy studded with melody, mirth and mystery, which begins a three-day run at the Little Orpheum Theatre today.

Jack Benny, as master of ceremonies of the radio troupe, Nancy Carroll as Sally Marsh, his star, and Gene Raymond, as a young Raffles with a penchant for diamond brooches, head the great cast of screen and radio favorites, which includes Sydney Howard, England's leading comedian; Mitz Green, in her first grown-up role; Sid Silvers, Frank Parker, the Boswell Sisters, Sidney Blackmer, Ralph Morgan, Shirley Grey, Sam Hardy, Patsy Kelly, William Boyd, Jean Sargent and Jimmy Grier and his orchestra.

Aline MacMahon Columbia Star

Aline MacMahon, who has the stellar role in the First National mystery drama, "While the Patient Slept," the Second Blue Club production which comes to the Columbia Theatre today, has a great aversion to revolvers. She has never fired one in her life except in pictures and then only twice.

Nevertheless, she was compelled to shoot a revolver in a scene from the mystery thriller. She was only supposed to fire one shot, but became so excited at the noise it made she emptied all the chambers of the automatic. There was a sigh of relief from everyone on the set when all the cartridges were expended.

Colonel Tim McCoy, gallant Columbia star, enacts his fiftieth important role in "Fighting Shadows," the fast-moving Columbia production which is the chief attraction.

In this film he plays an officer of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police. McCoy first came to Hollywood ten years ago as technical supervisor of the Indian sequences in "The Covered Wagon."

STRAUSS' OPERA WILL BE PRESENTED HERE

Presentation of Oscar Strauss' "Chocolate Soldier," at the Royal Victoria Theatre on December 5, 6 and 7 will see more of Victoria's favorite light opera singers back in the leads.

Doreen Wilson, as Nadine; Dudley Wickert, as Alexius, and Rex Lester as Bumwell provide the romance, and to them are given many tuneful melodies to sing.

The opera is being produced by the Victoria Civic Opera under the direction of Basil Horsfall, who made such an outstanding success of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

DANCER RECEIVES MANY GIFTS FROM ADMIRERS

During her dance career, Toni de Aragon, co-star of Joe Canino, has had many gifts presented her as tributes to her art and beauty. One of the most unusual was a beautiful pair of peacocks, given her at Cannes, France, by an Indian Maharajah because as he said, "of the similarity of the proud movements of their heads."

That beautiful poise and distinguished gesture will be well displayed in her new production.

played in the "Cordoba," a traditional religious dance of Spain, when Canino and de Aragon dance here on Saturday, November 30, at the Empire Theatre.

ARMY ASSISTS NEEDY PERSONS

Major R. Fullerton Issues Statement Explaining Need of Support

The Salvation Army, with relief headquarters at 525 Johnson Street, is still active and doing its best in order to help needy persons.

Major R. Fullerton, the relief officer, stated yesterday the Army was very much in need of assistance at the present time, and that anyone wishing to donate clothing, shoes, furniture, bedding, etc., could do so by telephoning Garden 7612.

The officer, referring to an article in which E. G. Snowden, city relief officer, said the city department was the only agency giving out used clothing, stated that Mr. Snowden had intended to say that the city office was the only agency with the exception of the Salvation Army.

FAST RECORD

Relief work always has been carried on by the Army, and such will continue to be the case. To give some conception of what the Salvation Army has done during the past twelve months, the following facts were made public yesterday:

More than 2,000 persons received assistance; 383 families were given hamper last Christmas season; 300 children were given toys; 715 persons were given free clothing; 2,219 garments were given away; 103 pieces of furniture were given to needy families; 2,670 free beds to men out of employment; 2,153 meals to hungry men and sixty stranded men assisted with beds, meals and clothing and some employment.

Major Fullerton thanks the citizens and friends for their generosity in the past and asks that they continue to give the work of the Salvation Army their support.

Gives Address on Work at School

DUNCAN, Nov. 20.—At a meeting of the Duncan Parent-Teacher Association held at the K. of P. Hall here last night, Mr. Plows, elementary school teacher at Fairbridge Farm School, gave a most interesting address on the work at the school. S. R. Kirkham occupied the chair.

At the business session, previous to the address, H. E. Blanchard reported on the success of the soup kitchen at the Duncan Consolidated School, which was being run on a month's trial, and it was unanimously decided to continue it for the winter months. Delegates chosen to represent the branch at the Island Council were Mrs. A. Leeming, Miss E. Dickinson and S. R. Kirkham.

It was reported that the sum of $26.05 had been realized at the recent cooked food sale, and Driver Brothers were thanked for lending their premises for the sale.

Jane Dixon Says:

I CAN'T UNDERSTAND HOW A SELF-RESPECTING MAN CAN DEMAND A MORE EXTRAVAGANT SCALE OF LIVING UNLESS HE IS ABLE TO DEMAND THE UPWARD STEP

Dear Jane Dixon: We have been married for three years.

I was to keep my position for six months, and we were to work on a fifty-fifty basis during that time. The plan is still in operation and I am still working, with no improvement in sight.

My husband is supporting two children by a former marriage.

We have an apartment with my mother (he pays half the rent of it and I pay the other half). I have been boarding with my mother and he with his mother, who has an apartment in the same building.

During this time he never has contributed to my support, but I have overlooked this, knowing these are unusual times and he is under heavy expenses.

Now he is getting dissatisfied, and wants to move to a better neighborhood. I'd be willing to go if he would support me, but under the circumstances it would be necessary for me to pay my half, and, in addition to working all day, I'd have to pitch in and do my housework at night.

ANTAGONISTIC TOWARD MOTHER

He says my working doesn't help him, but helps only my mother and myself, but it seems a pretty big help to me for a man to be able to keep his entire pay envelope for himself. I married with the understanding I would continue to live at home; and if I should have to leave now it would result in my mother losing the home she's worked so hard to keep these past several years. My father has been without work for three years, and the income from this house is my parents' only means of support.

My husband always has been antagonistic toward my mother, though she has done everything possible for him, even loaning him money on various occasions.

Should I leave my mother to struggle along as best she can and go with my husband regardless of the fact he fails to support me? He says he'll leave without me if I don't go with him.—Discouraged.

BOTH FAILED TO KEEP AGREEMENT

Answer: Your position is indeed a difficult one, and it is easy to understand how you are confused about the direction in which duty lies. You will need to remember that there can be no divided duty. In the very nature of itself, duty is indivisible. Your duty, it would seem, is with your husband.

The trouble is that the two of you entered into agreements you've failed to keep.

You were to keep your position six months, with expenses on a fifty-fifty basis, and you've carried on for three years. You consented to marriage on condition you were to live at home, and now your husband goes back on the bargain.

Neither one of you has lived up to contracts.

Until you do, there will be strife and dissension, unless you get together and arrange a new set of agreements or contracts based on an honest desire to help one another and to find your mutual happiness.

I can't very well understand how a self-respecting man can demand a more extravagant scale of living unless he is able to finance the upward step. Housekeeping and home-making, properly done, are full-time jobs. You will soon learn that you cannot hold a job outside your home all day and a job in your home when your day's work is done. One job or the other, or both, will be carelessly and inefficiently done. Women who have attempted this impossible task have sacrificed their health for a failure.

Your husband's antagonism toward your mother is something beyond your control, and no matter how unfair you may feel it to be, the fact is it exists and you will have to accept that fact. It would be better for these two to live apart. The antagonism might then disappear.

Your husband is entitled to his own home, and the best he can afford. Not the best home you can help him to finance, fifty-fifty. Tell him you will give him to any home he provides, but that you will have to give up your job of wage earner for that of home-maker.

Gilt Top to Send Strong Squad to Meet Dominoes

Seattle Manager Announces Personnel of Team for Saturday Night's Game Here With Dominion Champions—Doug Peden Will Make First Appearance of Campaign

Seven first-class ball handlers, representing the Gilt Top basketball team, of Seattle, will provide the opposition for the Victoria Dominions, Dominion champions, at the High School Gymnasium, Saturday night, in the main attraction of the programme arranged by officials of the Victoria and District League. According to word received here yesterday, from Manager James Cree, of the American quintette, by Secretary Frank Elliott, the invaders will bring a well-balanced aggregation, one which should provide stiff opposition for the national titleholders.

Two former University of Washington Huskies and another star from the University of Nebraska, are included on the line-up which will stack up against Dave Nicol's Dominoes. Kirkpatrick, former centre scoring ace for the Huskies, will work at the tip-off position for the Gilt Toppers, and Cook, a guard with Coach Hec Edmundson's Washington squad last season, will be here, while Dusek is the lad who played regular for the University of Nebraska two years ago.

HIGH SCORERS
Ott will start on the firing line as will Mayovsky and Brady. The former played with the Kelly Printing team in the Seattle Commercial League last year and was high scorer for his club. Mayovsky finished fourth in the scoring race, while Brady was higher, being in second berth at the end of the campaign. Taintor, the other member, plays guard and forward.

Manager Nicol cracked a wide smile yesterday when he announced that Doug Peden, high-scoring guard and ace defence player with the Blue Ribbons, will be playing his first game of the season with the Dominoes. Peden has been out with an injured hip since returning from the East. He will team up with that great player, Chuck Chapman, on the back division. This means that the team which Nicol hopes to capture another Dominion title with is now intact.

As everybody knows, last week the Dominoes battled through three overtime periods to a forty-all deadlock with the towering Seattle Knights of Columbus cagers in one of the most exciting games ever played at the High Gymnasium.

Art Chapman, "Red" Martin and "Porky" Andrews will open on the front line. Axel Kinnear, Ollie Goldsmith, Jack Mottishaw and Alex McKeachie will be on the bench waiting to get into the fray.

Remember When

(Twenty-Five Years Ago)

Nineteen points to nil was the extent of Victoria's victory over Nainaimo Hornets in the second local match of the British Columbia championship series, the stake being the McKeehan Cup, which was played on a sloppy field and in a heavy rain at Oak Bay Park yesterday afternoon. There was a creditable turnout of enthusiasts in spite of weather conditions.

The visitors put up a plucky struggle. Rugby, it seems, hasn't flourished of late in the Coal City, and, apparently, Snowden and a few of the other of the game's stalwarts resident there had some difficulty in securing a fifteen to make the trip. When it is remembered that they were working on a strange ground, and in unfamiliar surroundings, to say nothing of their being pitted against a team fresh from a triumph against Vancouver's hus-

IRISH FANS STORM RING IN BELFAST

Crowd of Fifteen Thousand Rush Past Gatekeeper to See Boxing Card

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, Nov. 20 (P)—Anxious to see a boxing programme, in which Eddie Winstob, the Viking, Alberta, light-heavyweight, and Jack ("Spider") Armstrong, Toronto bantamweight, were participating, a crowd of 15,000 tonight stormed King's Hall, near Balmoral Station.

The huge throng rushed the barriers, smashing down fences and gates. They brushed past the gatekeeper and swept into the hall, which accommodates 6,000.

Chaos prevailed as non-ticket holders grabbed expensive seats and patrons who had paid were pushed aside. An extra 150 police were summoned to restore order, but they had to draw their batons to quiet the crowd and out of the way of the intruders.

WENSTOB WINS
Winstob defeated Pat Marrinan in a scheduled ten-round encounter when the programme finally began, twenty minutes late. Marrinan had to retire at the end of the fifth round with two badly-cut eyes.

Winstob handed out heavy body punishment in the first round. In the second, Marrinan held his own against the skillful, fast Canadian cowboy, who landed some beautiful rights. Winstob closed his opponent's right eye in the third and almost closed the left in the fourth. With that advantage, he stormed Marrinan and belted his head and body.

Armstrong outpointed Jackie Quinn, Irish bantam, in a six-round bout.

BUCKAROOS IN PUCK VICTORY

SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (P)—The Portland Buckaroos defeated the Seattle Seahawks, 2-1, tonight and moved into a tie for first place with Vancouver in the Northwestern Hockey League.

Portland went into the lead in the second period when Blith drove the puck across the blue line to Coupez, skating fast on the side. Coupez shot into a corner of the net.

The Seahawks speeded up the fight and carried the battle into Portland territory. A wild and woolly scramble ensued with Goalie Aitkenhead blocking the Seattle drives at every turn.

Short one man in the third period, Portland lost the puck to Seattle and the Seahawks put on the pressure and swept the Buckaroos goal. In the general conflict, Coupez snatched the puck from under the Seahawks' skates, broke into the clear and got almost on top of Goalie Venne before crashing the rubber into the net.

In a dying rally, Seattle cut loose and carried the game to Portland's net. Gagne got away with the puck, faded in close and slipped a short pass to Gilhooly, who scored.

Ex-Juniors With Toronto

Toronto Maple Leafs, who for the last two seasons have finished atop the National Hockey League only to be ousted from the Stanley Cup play-offs, started the season with almost the same team which sported their colors in the 1934-35 schedule. The ex-St. Michael's College junior line of Art Jackson, Nick Metz and Pep Kelly will be sent over the boards as the third line again. The trio started, but was broken up last winter while Jackson and Metz both served a few games with Syracuse Stars for added experience. Reunited, they are expected to give a good account of themselves as a regular Leaf line.

St. Louis Cards Trade Whitehead To Terry's Team

Second Baseman of Red Birds Goes to Giants for Either Pitchers Roy Parmelee or Fred Fitzsimmons—Detroit After Al Simmons, Who Is Bound to Be Traded—Denials Numerous

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer.
DAYTON, O., Nov. 20 (P)—Rumors and denials fought to a noisy twenty-four-hour draw today at the annual minor league baseball meeting. Except for an admission by the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals that they had made a deal, and a few minor league swaps, every rumor was up in the stratosphere with the managers firing at them with denials. Managers

Bill Terry, of the Cardinals, said their deal would not be announced until the major league meeting in Chicago next month. The general impression was that the Giants swapped either Pitchers Roy Parmelee or Fred Fitzsimmons for Second Baseman Burgess Whitehead, a fine fielder, held on the Card bench by Manager Frisch.

The only other certain development of major league importance was that Chicago White Sox had Al Simmons, slugging outfielder who didn't slug enough last season, on the block for $100,000 in cash or a block of players. Manager Mickey Cochrane, of Detroit, went into a huddle with the White Sox officials, ostensibly to discuss a deal whereby Simmons would go to the world's champs for Outfielder Gerald Walker, a pitcher and Third Baseman Gilbert English.

Reports that Philadelphia Athletics had sent Jimmie Fox, Roger Cramer and Eric McNair to Boston

Red Sox for Third Baseman Bill Werber and a big bag of Tom Yawkey's money, drew such a stormy denial from Eddie Collins, general manager of the Red Sox, that many baseball men were sure they were true.

Collins, Joe McCarthy and Bucky Harris chorused a denial of any knowledge of a reported three-cornered deal involving the Yankees, Red Sox and Senators, whereby Boston would get Outfielder Heinie Manush and Pitcher Jack Russell from Washington, the Yankees would obtain Outfielder Roy Johnson from Boston and Pitcher Bump Hadley and Jonathan Stone from Washington, and the Senators would receive Outfielder Ben Chapman and Pitchers Jimmy Murphy and Jimmy Deshong from the Yankees.

Yet, from a good authority, it was heard the deal would be announced momentarily.

Bill Evans, resigned general manager of Cleveland, apparently lost hope of landing with Detroit Tigers. Charles Navin, nephew of the late Detroit president, was regarded as a certainty to take over active control of the club. Meanwhile, Evans was reported as a leading candidate for the presidency of the American Association.

MAROONS DEFEAT LAKE HOOPSTERS
Bob Whyte's Quintette Gains Close Win From Shawinigan—Malahats In Cup Victory

SHAWINIGAN LAKE, Nov. 20.—Home teams divided honors at the S.L.A.A. Hall on Tuesday evening, when the Shawinigan girls lost by a lone basket to Bob Whyte's Maroons in an exhibition curtain-raiser, and Malahats wrested a six-point victory from Duncan Intermediate "A" in the Winter Cup series.

The girls' game was close throughout, with the outcome in doubt until the final whistle, with the Victorians in the lead by a score of 26-24.

The men's league fixture in the knockout series resulted in a 33-27 win for Malahats, which victory entitles the mountain lads to play-off with Union 76 in Duncan on Friday night, for the final in the Duncan district in the Winter Cup series.

Teams and scores are as follows: Maroons—Z. Richards 6, E. Creed 2, G. Stewart 2, P. Macdonald 6, G. Jones 6, V. Holt 2, P. Marchant 2. Shawinigan—J. Yates 8, L. Yates 4, A. Gibson 8, V. Meyland 2, I. Hunt 2, R. Cronk, C. Twist, M. Smith.

Duncan Intermediate "A"—C. Sizemore 4, F. Tait 3, R. Jack 3, B. Kyle, C. Evans 6, G. Timothy 4, R. MacMurtrie, G. Whan 2, R. Bonner, E. Pitt 3.

Malahats—V. Arnold 3, E. Sidel 7, V. Loney 9, W. Elford 9, F. Luckovich 5.

R. Haines, E. Tait and R. Grant handled the games as referees and scorekeeper.

Select Santa Monica

SEATTLE, Nov. 20 (P)—The Seattle Baseball Club will train at Santa Monica, Calif., for next season's campaign. President William Klepper announced today on his return from the Pacific Coast League meeting at Los Angeles.

The Indians will use the new $40,000 Santa Monica Baseball Park, where Los Angeles worked out last season. It will be the thirteenth different training site for Seattle since it entered the league in 1913.

The Indians last worked out at Santa Barbara.

BROOKS WILL MEET INDIAN IN MAT BOUT

Former Victoria Squirmer to Wrestle Baptiste Paul Saturday Night

Back to the battlefield where he made his debut in "big time" wrestling, Saturday evening, will come "Rocky" Brooks, former Victoria squirmer and "strong man," to appear on the semi-windup of Promoter Fred Richardson's all-heavyweight grappling programme at the Villium Gymnasium.

Brooks returned to the Pacific Coast wrestling programme last week, after an absence of three years, when he appeared at Seattle against Ivan Managoff, Russian exponent of the mat game. Saturday he will be welcomed home by Baptiste Paul, Victoria Indian, who has been chasing him for more than three years in an effort to get a match. The boys are billed to go five eight-minute rounds.

PAUL SOUGHT MATCH
Paul has been appearing in different Coast cities, and has met with considerable success, and as soon as he heard that Brooks was available for a match, he literally begged Promoter Fred Richardson for a chance to go in against the former Victoria "strong man."

"That bird has been side-stepping me ever since I challenged him here more than four years ago, and has shown no desire to step into the ring with me," said Baptiste Paul. However, the Indian's chance is coming, and if he does one-half of what he says he will to Brooks, the former Victorian is going to have a busy evening.

Baptiste Paul made a good impression in his bout last Saturday with Jack Wagner, and there are many of the fans who will be ready to pick the Indian to defeat Brooks. "Rocky," as he is known to local followers of the grunt and groan pastime, must be a vastly improved grappler, and this means that the Indian should find plenty of stiff opposition in the coming match.

Two other bouts, an eight-round heavy-weight main event, and a local special event, will complete the card. Promoter Richardson expects to have these matches arranged today.

MINOR LOOPS MAKE TRADES

Bill Cissell Goes to Baltimore For Sweeney—New Leagues Formed

DAYTON, O., Nov. 20 (P)—With schedule and officers decided for next season, International League representatives to the Minor League baseball meeting today tarried in an attempt to swing some deals and hear assurance from the American Association that it would adopt the play-off plan and resume the little world series in 1936.

Montreal, which made a reported $80,000 profit with its pennant winner last season, was eyed by everyone with a player to sell. Montreal indicated it was ready to spend $25,000 for new talent.

Baltimore traded first baseman Bill Sweeney to Portland for infielder Bill Cissell.

Gossip had it that Oscar Vitt, present pilot of the Oakland Oaks, of the Pacific Coast League, would be named manager of the Newark Club with Joe Sewell, deposed Yankee coach, managing Oakland.

American Association club owners will not hold their Winter meeting until December 10 at Chicago. Most of them were in Dayton, assuring the International Leagues they were in favor of adopting the Shaughnessy play-off plan and resuming the little world series.

SIX NEW LEAGUES
DAYTON, O., Nov. 20 (P)—Minor Baseball League leaders opened their convention here today and heard glowing reports of the past season's successes.

Promotional Director Joe Carr, of Columbus, reported that six new leagues of class "D" rating may be formed for 1936, increasing the list of minors to twenty-seven.

The proposed new circuits are the Western Canadian, Ohio State, Sully, William and Penn, Mid-West and Wisconsin State.

TED REEVE SIGNED
KINGSTON, Ont., Nov. 20 (P)—The athletic board of control of Queen's University announced today Ted Reeve has been re-engaged to coach Queen's senior football team of 1936. Under the former Balm Beach football star, Queen's won the Inter-Collegiate Union championship in 1934 and 1935.

PORTADOWN AND LINFIELD DRAW
BELFAST, Nov. 20 (P)—In a semi-final soccer match for the Gold Cup, Linfield and Portadown battled to a scoreless draw on the former's ground today. The teams will meet again to decide which will meet Distillery in the final.

Presenting plenty of punch and scoring ability in their front rank, Hudson's Bay swamped a game but inexperienced Saanich United 8-1, yesterday afternoon, at Heywood Avenue.

endeavour to widen their lead in the Hayward Cup chase in the Wednesday Football League. The win was the seventh straight for Manager George McAdam's green and gold swarblers, and just about settled the resting place of the coveted silverware for the next twelve months.

Spencers, showing improvement over their performance of last week, still retained a mathematical chance of winning the silverware by leading out a 4-1 setback to the James Bay Wanderers at the Royal Athletic Park.

Navy, too, kept in the running for the trophy by nosing out Kresges, 1-0, on the wind-swept and cold Beacon Hill, upper ground. The win pulled the sailors into a triple tie for second place with the James Bay Wanderers and Spencers, exactly six points behind the league-leading Hudson's Bay eleven.

SPENCERS WIN
Minus several of their regulars, James Bay Wanderers fought a losing battle at the enclosure against Spencers. The departmentals gained an early lead and clung to it despite some determined efforts on the part of their opponents. Spencers led at the interval, 2-1, and before the final whistle, added two more to make victory more secure.

Pressing from the start on a slippery field, Spencers held the edge during the first twenty minutes. After several raids on the Wanderers' goal, Bernie Clarke opened the scoring when he went in fast, took Nicol's cross, and scored with a hard drive which beat Saddle for the start. Mail was alongside of Clarke at the time and could have scored himself had the centre forward let the ball travel a few inches farther.

About ten minutes later, "Shorty" Collins put Spencers two up when he tricked himself into position and found the corner of the net with a fast shot from the penalty line. Spencers continued the pressure, but Saddle guarded his goal well and handled the shots coming his way in fine style.

After several breakaways in which the Wanderers kept the departmental defence and halves busy, a penalty was given when Munroe fouled Speller. Bedford scored from the spot with a neat left-footer. James Bay kept on the offensive, but Stewart pulled off two smart saves, one from Speller, which nearly beat him, and another hard drive from Bourne. The count remained the same at the half-time whistle.

End-to-end play featured the early stages of the final half, with Cann and Munroe breaking up several dangerous forward movements by the Wanderers. The Bays used a short-passing game in trying to engineer their rushes, but this type of play got them nowhere against Spencers' halves and back division. Distributing the ball to wings more often might have brought the Bays better results.

CLARKE SCORES
Twenty minutes after the half opened, Clarke made it 3-1 when he cut through the Wanderers' defence fast and continued on towards the goal to score to the corner quite easily. The Bays retaliated several times after this goal, but their efforts were weak, poor passing and teamwork being responsible. Before the finish, Bobby Brown got credit for the final goal when his long shot from the wing slipped away from Saddle and Referee McMillan whistled for a goal, stating that the ball was over the line.

McMillan refereed and teams followed: Spencers—Stewartson, Munroe, Cann, L. Bradley, Chapman, D. Bradley, Brown, Mail, Clarke, Collins and Nicol.

Wanderers—Saddle, Gelling, White, Thame, Fieldhouse, Roskamp, Ball, Belford, Speller and Bourne.

BAYS SWAMP SAANICH

Four goals by "Scotty" Robinson, sharpshooting inside right, and two each by "Tubby" Stevens and Jack Okell, brought the Hudson's Bay through to an 8-1 victory over the Saanich United eleven at Heywood Avenue. The suburban players prevented a whitewash about halfway through the final canto when "Bud" Smith, bustling inside left, netted their only tally of the match.

Hudson's Bay dominated the play from the start, and except for a few ineffective rushes on the part of the Saanich United eleven, were always the better team. The green and gold gained shots of all descriptions at young Jack O'Connor, Saanich goalie, and but for his fine work between the sticks the score against his club would have been much larger.

Goals by Jack Okell and Robinson enabled the Hudson's Bay to enjoy a 2-0 lead as the teams reached the break. Mail was alongside of Okell at the time and could have scored himself had the centre forward let the ball travel a few inches farther.

Security Prices Turn Softer at New York Mart

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (AP)—A last-hour burst of selling following irregularly brought losses of 1 to around 3 points on the stock exchange today.

Some observers attributed the drop to increased unrest over French financial troubles and economic hostilities aimed at Italy. Others said equally important deterrents to the rise were the opinion that the market had gone too long without a reaction. Remarks of J. P. Morgan, returning from Europe, that he did not think bull markets make for prosperity were also noted.

Measured by the Associated Press average of sixty stocks the market was down 7 of a point, to 53.4. Rails, utilities and industrials all declined. Transactions totaled 3,552,777 shares against 2,910,580 on Tuesday.

Losses of 1 to 3 points were suffered by U. S. Steel at 49, Westinghouse Electric at 95 1/2, Chrysler at 86 1/8, Continental Can at 95 1/2, General Electric at 39 3/4, General Motors at 57 5/8, Case at 107, Santa Fe at 52, Union Pacific at 101 1/4, and International Harvester at 63 3/8.

American Telephone rose 1-4 to 151 on declaration of the regular dividend of $2.25. The dividend season was expected in Wall Street. Profit takers and sellers finally got the upper hand in the domestic corporation bond market, and a general, but orderly retreat carried prices of most active issues major fractions to a point lower.

The foreign section lacked feature.

PILOT'S LICENSES

AFTER 25 HOURS OF SOLO FLYING THE STUDENT IS ELIGIBLE FOR THE AMATEUR LICENSE. AMATEUR PILOTS MAY NOT CARRY PASSENGERS.

THE PRIVATE AND LIMITED COMMERCIAL LICENSES MAY BE OBTAINED AFTER 50 HOURS SOLO. THE STUDENT MAY NOW CARRY PASSENGERS.

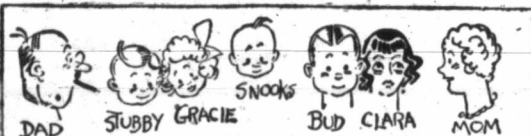

THE TRANSPORT LICENSE IS THE HIGHEST LICENSE ISSUED. AFTER 200 HOURS SOLO, THE STUDENT IS ELIGIBLE TO TAKE THE TRANSPORT TEST. PASSING IT, HE IS THEN A PROFESSIONAL PILOT.

PILOTS' licences in the U.S.A. are graduated in importance according to the number of solo flying hours to the credit of the holder. The highest licence issued by the Bureau of Air Commerce, which controls civil flying, is the transport licence which is issued to the pilot who has at least 200 solo flying hours and who can pass the written and flying tests obtaining for the transport licence.

Beyond the 200 hour or transport stage, higher licences are not issued. Additional ratings may be obtained. For instance, the transport pilot may obtain a rating to fly a tri-motored plane or bi-motored amphibian. Again there is the Scheduled Air Transport Rating which must be obtained by all airline pilots and co-pilots. Its issuance presumes the pilot's ability to take advantage of all the recently installed aids to navigation—radio beams and landing devices—and to be able to fly by instruments alone in bad weather. While the transport licence is the highest issued, its use is limited to the flying of types of aircraft with which the pilot shows himself to be proficient.

TO MAKE BRICKS WITHOUT STRAW

To make brick without straw is to launch an undertaking with inadequate equipment, to try to accomplish a task requiring far more means than are at one's disposal.

We have this colorful metaphor, as we have so many others, from the Bible, where it appears in Exodus.

While today the expression is used figuratively, the original allusion was to the specific task of making brick without the necessary straw ingredient—a hardship to which the Israelites in Egypt were subjected by the then ruler:

"And Pharaoh commanded: 'Ye shall no more give the people straw to make the bricks...'

HAVE RIGHT TO ALL EACH OTHER'S CASH

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Nov. 20 (AP)—A wife has a right to all the cash she can find in her husband's pockets, County Judge Algernon Nova ruled today.

"It is not a crime when a wife relieves a husband of his pocket contents," Judge Nova said in dismissing a larceny complaint against Mrs. Carolyn Mead, twenty, brought by her husband, Frank.

But Judge Nova provided some solace for the lord of the manor by saying: "What's sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander. A husband also has the right to relieve a wife's pocketbook of such monies as are there."

CHAPTER X
Finding herself back once more at the table where Crandall and Dr. Craig waited for her and Kathy, Carol threw over her shoulder the morning and decided to see her day with Crandall through. Whether it was because she wanted to, whether she had lost her distrust of Crandall or whether it was but another gesture of protecting Kathy (or Owen) from the immediate situation, she did not know.

"It's after two and Dr. Craig tells me he has an appointment now," she said.
"You girls going shopping?" Owen looked at Kathy.
Decidedly Kathy had no intentions of shopping. She wanted to talk to Gary but Gary had other ideas.

"Carol and I are going up to look over the zoo," he said smoothly. "Sorry we can't persuade you to join us, Kathy."
To less trusting eyes than Owen's the expression on Kathy's face would have revealed much as she said:
"Sweet of you, Gary. Another time. I'm playing contract so I'll go along with Owen."
After they were gone Gary studied Carol in her smart new clothes. He approved them.

"Smart frock," he said. "How come?"
The old excitement was returning to Carol. Surely this little adventure could do her no harm.
"I . . . I took some money from my savings account," she answered him. "They . . . they aren't as expensive as they look. A friend helped me to get them whole sale." He knew they were good but had he known that she paid $750 for them, the trend of Carol's whole life would have been changed then and there.

"Very good, but don't buy any more at present. Clothes have led more than one good woman's pocketbook astray."
"But I still have a little money," she lied glibly, "and I have plenty for . . . for this afternoon . . ." her voice trailed off in embarrassment. She couldn't remind him that he had suggested a visit to a beauty shop.

And she didn't need to. Gary Crandall would never have been there lurching with an unattractive girl if it hadn't seemed like a lark to him to take a plain girl in hand and show her the way to attractiveness. Gary had ideas about the way a smartly groomed made-to-seem-handsome woman should look and while a mere suggestion from him had sent more than one woman to trying frantically to achieve his idea of perfection, he had never had the fun of actual experimentation. It was a thrill to him, and that Carol was (as he believed) a girl without money gave him an added sense of pleasure of doing something, as he put it, "really fine."

"Well, shall we get on our way? I'm taking you to Madame Lilli and mind you—his voice was severe—"I'm in charge."
"Do you really think that a visit to . . . to Madame Lilli will make me . . . well, you remember what I said to you. I'd like to be pretty but even if I were I don't know what I would do." There was fear and loneliness in her voice but her words made Gary groan inwardly.

"I'm sure she can work wonders but what you'll do afterwards, my dear, I really don't know." Secretly he hoped she'd have no romantic leanings toward him. He'd be glad enough to help turn her out smartly.

tured and the artists who were to achieve the miracle of turning an undistinguished girl into a pretty woman studied her. Skin specialists, a masseuse, hair specialists, an endless procession of them studied her under various lights, with microscopic mirrors and with color and compound charts. They gave her a white robe to wear and then they went to work on her.

She closed her eyes tightly when they cut off the masses of her hair and would not open them through the hours when gentle fingers did mysterious things to it. Finally, with the drying cap on her head, she lay back relaxed in the great, deep chair while they plucked her brows, plucked, patted, pinched and massaged her face. Gradually her fears left her and she gave herself up to the ministrations of her attendants. She slept a little and woke as adept fingers applied the transforming makeup. It was done and the cap was removed from her head.

"Look at yourself, Madame."
It was a moment too great to be borne!
She couldn't speak. Her head felt light as air and her hands like ice as they slipped her own gown over her shoulders.

The curtains were parted and Carol walked into the little salon where Gary was waiting for her. He crushed out his cigarette and turned to look at her.
He had expected much but not this vision!

The lights caught the red-gold glints in the silken cap of hair that clung to her small head and folded softly against her white throat. Long dark lashes framed eyes made violet by their shadows beneath delicate wings-like brows. The delicate flush of pink on her smooth cheeks was but the echoing tone of the rose that colored her lips.

The girl was . . . He spoke the word in a whisper:
"Ravishing!"
And then, her face against his shoulder, she cried as though her heart would break.

(To Be Continued)

B.C. Potatoes May Command Premium Due to Growing Shortage

Frost, which cut a wide swath through lands bordering on the Fraser and Columbia Rivers about ten days ago, did extensive damage to apple, potato and other crops still in the fields. Provincial officials of the Department of Agriculture confirmed yesterday, after a preliminary check-up on the loss sustained.

While nominally extensive, damage done by reduction of crops will in most instances increase the value of the remainder, noticeably so in the case of potatoes. It was said. With an acute shortage of tubers in Eastern Canada and in parts of the United States, British Columbia potato growers are now in a preferred position, with a rising market for their product.

DAMAGE REAL
A cash estimate of the loss sustained by frost will not be available until district agriculturists have had time to complete and file their reports. Meanwhile, it is stated provisionally, about a third of the potato crop in some districts was nipped, while late varieties of apples suffered heavily, along with miscellaneous crops left insecurely covered in fields and sheds.

Reduction of United States duties on potatoes, under the reciprocal trade agreement when it goes into effect next year, will give British Columbia producers an additional benefit in the neighborhood of $6 a ton, J. A. Grant, of the Provincial Marketing Board, intimated. Mr. Grant has just returned from the Interior, where he saw extensive evidence of frost damage at first hand.

That Body of Yours
(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE APPETITE IS NOT A CORRECT GUIDE TO EATING

Some of our overweight friends tell us that it is only natural for them to be fat; in fact just as others who are not fat eat what they like, so was it intended that appetite should be their guide as to the amount and kind of food to eat. Now the fat individual knows, and so does everybody else, that appetite is not a guide as to the correct amount of food to eat because appetite has just led him or her to eat more than they needed and the excess weight is the result.

He knows also that just as surely as the excess weight went on so will it come off if he eats just a little less food than he actually needs for some weeks or months and nature will use up the extra fat stored in his body to supply the extra food needed by the body.

The same rule applies, but not to the same extent, to those who are thin or below normal weight. This lack in weight is hard to understand in some cases because the thin individual eats as much, perhaps even more, than others in the family who are of normal weight. Sometimes it is due to a fast thyroid gland; at other times it is due to some low infection that prevents absorption of all the good or nourishment from the food eaten.

Very often, however, it is due to his or her "disposition"—nervous, worried, over strict in his discipline of himself or others. It has been found that in some of these cases these "nervous" tendencies interfere with the flow of digestive juices so that some of the food is not absorbed into the blood.

For instance, if the individual has "something on his mind" when he eats, it has been found that notwithstanding the fact that the food is lying in the stomach waiting to be churned by the stomach walls and mixed with the stomach digestive juice, the stomach walls do not churn, and there is no flow of digestive juice for periods as long as half an hour. Similarly, movements of the small intestine are stopped or delayed at times, and at other times the food rushes through without getting the proper absorption in the blood.

The lesson, then, for overweights is not to follow the appetite as their guide, but to eat less and use some of their stored fat for food. The lesson for the underweight is to try not to eat when tired, worried, or upset; to get as much relaxed as possible before eating.

IT'S NOT IN MANY CEREALS

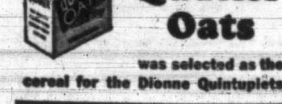

Nothing anyone eats is more important than Vitamin B—the vitamin for keeping fit. Yet it isn't in many cereals, when cereals are supposed to be our best source of this food element.

Many are nervous, poor in appetite, system out of order, because their daily diets lack enough of the precious Vitamin B for keeping fit.

Few things keep them back like a lack of this protective food element.

So give everyone Quaker Oats every morning. Because in addition to its generous supply of Vitamin B for keeping fit, it furnishes food-energy, muscle and body-building ingredients. For about 1/2c per dish.

Start serving it tomorrow for a 2-week test. Quaker Oats has a wholesome, nut-like, luscious appeal to the appetite. Flavors, surpassingly good. All grocers supply it.
